2. CITATIONS AND EXPLANATIONS

The invention relates to compounds and their derivatives, pharmaceutical compositions comprising such compounds and their methods of using of such compounds thereof. Considering the prior art cited (US 5,891,683 and MORIMOTO et al) in the International search report, claim 1-20 of this invention is novel. The closest prior art of record is MORIMOTO et al. Claims 1-20 meet the criteria set out in PCT rticle 33(2)-(4), because the prior art do not teach or fairly suggest the compounds which are useful as estrogen receptor modulators as described in this application.
